

What makes our facilitator training programme different?

Action Learning Associates Flagship facilitator training programme
Gold Standard Action Learning practice grounded in experience	ALA is a true centre of excellence for action learning. We have been immersed in applying this model in myriad contexts for over 25 years. Our track record and testimonials speak for themselves.
Time to immerse yourself in the learning	3-4 full days with options to go further with our CPD programmes (see below)
A strong theoretical grounding with an experiential focus	Learning by doing and reflecting
Small groups of 5-6 people	Time for each person to develop their skills, ask questions, get feedback
A proper physical handbook of 120 pages	To support you in your facilitation practice – not just during the course, but forever
Free 3 month follow up support with an ALA Director after you complete the course	Participants can come back to us for advice and support as they put their new skills into practice.
Course developed over 25 years by practitioners with an unparalleled range of experience across all sectors	Specialists in corporates, public sector & non-profits internationally
A FREE action learning facilitator's resource starter pack	Hard copy and PDF for you to share with new participants, including: • The process at set meetings • Set ground rules • Useful action learning questions • A guide to self-facilitation • The theory behind action learning
CPD opportunities	We are here to support your development as an action learning facilitator into the future. Beyond our foundational facilitator training programme, you can go further with our: - Facilitator supervision sets - Advanced ILM Recognised programme - Master programme Find out more
We are an 'ILM Recognised' provider	'ILM Recognised' is a quality benchmark to ensure our programmes meet the highest standards